Successful as any one may have been in amassing a stock of heraldic literature, it is presumed, that these pages may afford an addition to it, as they consist of what is hitherto unpublished or extremely rare. The lives of Sir William Dugdale and Gregory King are copied from original manuscripts in the Oxford libraries. That of the latter, written with his own hand, was given to the Bodleian archives by Dr. R. Rawlinson, well known for his love of antiquities and the very valuable collections he made, in the study of them. How he procured the manuscript abovementioned is not known; but its curiosity may recommend it to the public eye, as well by affording an eminent example of unceasing assiduity in the profession of a herald, as by rescuing from a kind of oblivion Mr. Kings singular proficiency in various branches of the arts and sciences, according to their progress in his time. In the catalogue of the officers of arms established in this kingdom, care has been taken to give it the value of superior accuracy.
